DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Species I. in the reply filed on 5/29/07 is acknowledged. This traversal is found persuasive and the requirement has been vacated.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the “motor” (claim 27), the explosion-proof container” (claim 29), the “source of AC current” (claim 30), the “battery back-up” (claim 31), the “leak detector” (claim 33), the “additional remote” (claim 34), the “gas flow sensor” (claim 36 and 37), the “monitoring station” (claim 40), the “nurse workstation” (claim 41) and the “means for monitoring” (claim 42) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. It appears to Examiner that Applicant has written the specification by means of example and does not set forth an explicit mode of operation and use. Particularly, it is disclosed/claimed that the remote control unit controls the valve independently from any inhalation activity and that the system excludes any means for automatically adjusting the gas flow according to the level of physical activity of the individual. However, in paragraph [0049]-[0052] the use of the system in conjunction with a means for monitoring an individuals oxygen level or physical activity is disclosed. Furthermore the details of such for monitoring an individuals oxygen level or physical activity is merely disclosed by means of example (see paragraphs [0050]-[0051]) and the explicit details to make and/or use the invention is not disclosed. Also, Applicant set forth three different user interfaces (again disclosed merely by example in paragraph [0048]) that utilize a button selection feature (Fig. 3A), a digital display (Fig. 3B), and a dial interface (Fig. 3C) and has failed to set forth the explicit details to make and/or use the user interfaces in conjunction with the system schematically shown in Figure 2. Also, Applicant has set forth use of the system with voice recognition (see the disclosure set forth by example in paragraph [0045]) and has failed to set forth the explicit details to make and/or use the voice recognition system in conjunction with the system schematically shown in Figure 2. Furthermore, Applicant has set forth the valve of the system as being manually operable when an AC source is inoperative. However, the disclosure fails to disclose the explicit details to make and/or use this feature in conjunction with the system.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Maher reference pertains to another gas delivery system with associated oxygen level sensing.
